DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in reply to applicant's correspondence of 06 October 2004.
2. Claims 1- 10 are pending for examination.
3. Claims 1- 10 remain rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lamming et al, U.S. Patent 6,144,997.
5. As per claim 1; "A method for expediting delegation of at least one permission over at least one personal area network via a delegation device [Abstract, figure 1 and associated description, col. 1, line 16-col. 2, line 57] comprising the steps of:
 - (A) creating, on one or more computers, pregenerated values representing at least a portion of data required to create a digital signature [col. 8, lines 23-col. 9, line 29];
 - (B) transferring said values to said delegation device;
 - (C) using said values in creating a digital signature on said delegation device; and
 - (D) delegating by a delegator to a delegatee the permission over said personal area network while physical presence exists between the delegator and the delegatee, wherein the permission is represented using said digital signature, and wherein said permission comprises authority to access a service. [as per limitations (B)-(D); col. 2,lines 6-57, col. 3,lines 36-58, col. 4,lines 43-66, col. 5,lines 45-col. 6,line 11, col. 6,lines 41-51, col. 7,lines 51-62, col. 8,lines 23-col. 9,line 29, col. 9,lines 66-col. 10,line 26, col. 10,lines 49-65, col. 11,lines 6-24]”;

Further, as per claim 6, this claim is the system claim for the method claim 1 above, and is rejected for the same reasons provided for the claim 1 rejection.

6. Claim 2 additionally recites the limitation that; “The method of claim 1 wherein step (B) comprises synchronizing said one or more computers with said delegation device.”. The teachings of Lamming et al suggest such limitations (col. 3,lines 35-col. 6,line 11, col. 8,lines 23-col. 10,line 65);

Further, as per claim 7, this claim is the system claim for the method claim 2 above, and is rejected for the same reasons provided for the claim 2 rejection.

7. Claim 3 additionally recites the limitation that; “The method of claim 1 wherein said delegation device comprises a constrained device.”. The teachings of Lamming et al suggest such limitations (col. 5,lines 45-col. 6,line 11);

Further, as per claim 8, this claim is the system claim for the method claim 3 above, and is rejected for the same reasons provided for the claim 3 rejection.

8. Claim 4 additionally recites the limitation that; “The method of claim 1 wherein the service comprises accessing content.”. The teachings of Lamming et al suggest such limitations (col. 3,lines 35-col. 5,line 17, col. 6,lines 1-11, col. 10,lines 25-42);

Further, as per claim 9, this claim is the system claim for the method claim 4 above, and is rejected for the same reasons provided for the claim 4 rejection.

9. Claim 5 additionally recites the limitation that; “The method of claim 1 wherein the service comprises actuating a device.”. The teachings of Lamming et al suggest such limitations (col. 3,lines 35-col. 5,line 17, col. 6,lines 1-11, col. 7,lines 8-22, col. 9,lines 30-42, col. 10,lines 25-42, col. 11,lines 32-col. 12,line 57.);

Further, as per claim 10, this claim is the system claim for the method claim 5 above, and is rejected for the same reasons provided for the claim 5 rejection.

Response to Amendment

10. As per applicant’s argument concerning the lack of teaching by Lamming et al of “... a digital signature ... on said delegation device; and delegating by a delegator to a delegatee the permission ... personal area network ... to access a service ...”, the examiner has fully considered the arguments and finds them not to be persuasive. The use of the “... be encrypted using shared key technology which is known in the art ...” (i.e., see col. 10,lines 44-65) clearly encompasses the ‘digital signature’ aspects, as broadly interpreted by the examiner, in that ‘shared key encryption’ is clearly known in the art to refer to digital signature technology.

Further, the claim language reciting the use of the phrase “at least a portion of data required to create a digital signature” clearly could, in the broadest interpretation, encompass the whole of the portion of data being read as a signature in of itself. Therefore, the claims reciting claim language specifically dealing with the phrase ‘...digital signature ...’ per se, is sufficiently broad such that the Lamming et al aspects of the shared key encryption system/methods, would therefore be applicable in the rejection, such that the rejection support references collectively encompass the said claim limitations in their entirety.

The lack of specificity in the independent claim language as applied to the rejection aspects of the claim limitations dealing with “permission” similarly apply insofar as the permission is clearly, as broadly interpreted by the examiner, just an authorization to use/execute/inspect, etc., whereas Lamming et al clearly conveys such rights inherently by virtue of the fact that permitted data is transferred in the first place.

11. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
